Course: 3 day Advanced Interview & Interrogation

Location: Regional Academy/LIT
Multi Purpose Center
802 E. Lavaca, Beaumont TX

Date: July 16—July 18

Time: 8:15 am—5:00 pm

Are your training budgets being cut? Is it just too costly to send more than one investigator to interview training? Then send us your best and we will train them to instruct. We take your experienced investigator and give him the skills and resources needed to train more of your agency personnel in various interview and interrogation skills. We will provide the training material, subscriptions to our on-line library of material and the support needed to conduct your own internal training.

Our instructors have been providing interview training for more than twenty five years. We retain highly experienced instructors that teach our Validated Interview Technique. We are the only training effort to have developed and conducted recognized polygraph schools in Iraq for the Department of Defense and the Government of Iraq. Combined, our staff has over one hundred years of total experience and multiple thousands of interrogations.

Three day Advanced Interview training. Seat space may be obtained by contacting Gary Duncan or the Polygraph Institute.

Special Pricing for LIT - $295/per student

- ◆ Twenty years of psychology research has helped assess which behavioral cues are the most valid cues to use when trying to identify deception in an interview.
- ◆ Our training relies on the most current behavioral psychology research to insure that investigators accurately identify and assess behavioral cues that have demonstrated the highest validity in identifying deception.
- ◆ We teach simple interview methods that help develop valid behavior cues from the interview. Our training will help investigators understand how to handle visual cues, such as eye contact and nervousness, that can lead to mistakes.
- ◆ Updating your interview training with valid interview techniques will help investigators enhance their decision making accuracy, increase their level of confidence, and improve the quality of investigative efforts.
- ◆ Why waste years trying to gain valid street experience when officers can learn from a proven track record of experience.
- ◆ All of our instructors have conducted thousands of field interviews and are thoroughly familiar with valid and proven diagnostic cues for evaluation.

Train the Trainer Requirements: All applicants must have prior investigative experience and have previously attended interview training. Experience which can be validated may be submitted in lieu of prior training. Must have the ability to teach and deliver training. We will license the use of our material for the purposes of training your agency or other investigative agency personnel for non-profit. We will provide our online library of behavioral psychology research that support the principles of our Validated Interview Technique training. We will provide our software applications and videos that will assist in developing training. We can also provide critiques of your video material to support your in-house training.

J. Patrick O’Burke is School Director for the Polygraph Institute. Mr. O’Burke retired as Commander from a premier state police agency, served in Iraq as an instructor and has conducted more than 8000 polygraph examinations. All of our instructors possess similar levels of expertise in conducting interviews and interrogations.

Basic Interviewing Course: A one day course for basic interview training that is ideal for the new investigator or patrol officer who desires to develop his interview skills. This course can be tailored to other basic investigative needs or functions at the client’s request.

Advanced Interviewing Course: A three day advanced course in our Validated Interview Technique which uses only research supported methods in cognitive interview, our proven field behavioral assessment and LEEN approach to develop a successful interrogation plan for interviewing deceptive suspects. We teach your investigator how to develop custom tailored interview plans for any person of interest they come in contact with. Our training also helps counter claims of “false” confessions. Our training works in the field and is defensible in court.

Train the Trainer: We provide your instructor training and then license the use of all of our media and training material for your agency use. We provide our online library access, our custom software applications for training and court defensible techniques for interview and interrogation. (40 hour course with special prior requirements.)
